Volume Fifty-eight

Final construction proves Wildcats choose to:

REFOCUS . . . a word uncommon in a Wildcat vocabulary suddenly emerged. It meant more involvement in school and social lives by changing activities, enriching a day in the life of a person, supporting city, world decisions.

National verdicts influenced student emotions and affected their understanding of major issues.

Constructed facilities increased the curriculum for students to discover aspects of various fields.

Previous apathetic year disappeared into a positive action to . . . REFOCUS.

REFOCUS

From the time they rose to the moment sleep ended their day, students experienced school life, refocusing on activities.

Spirit picked up after winning basketball season.

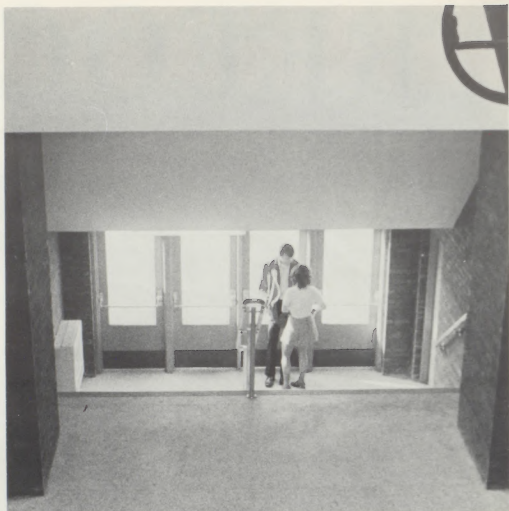

Student government controversy erupted reaction that caused involvement.

Summer activities, such as Milwaukee band trip, summer school kept students in touch with HHS.

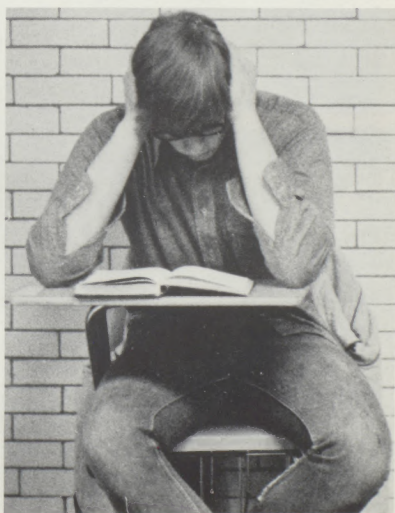

Getting involved in community, volunteers offered free time to causes.

Early and after school sports action found Cats concentrating on individual, group improvement.

Merging into one body, divided at times, people refocused on activities.

Patterns changed by refocusing one day in the life of an HHS student.

Growing number of drivers filled the parking lot each morning as they hurried to beat 8:30 bell.

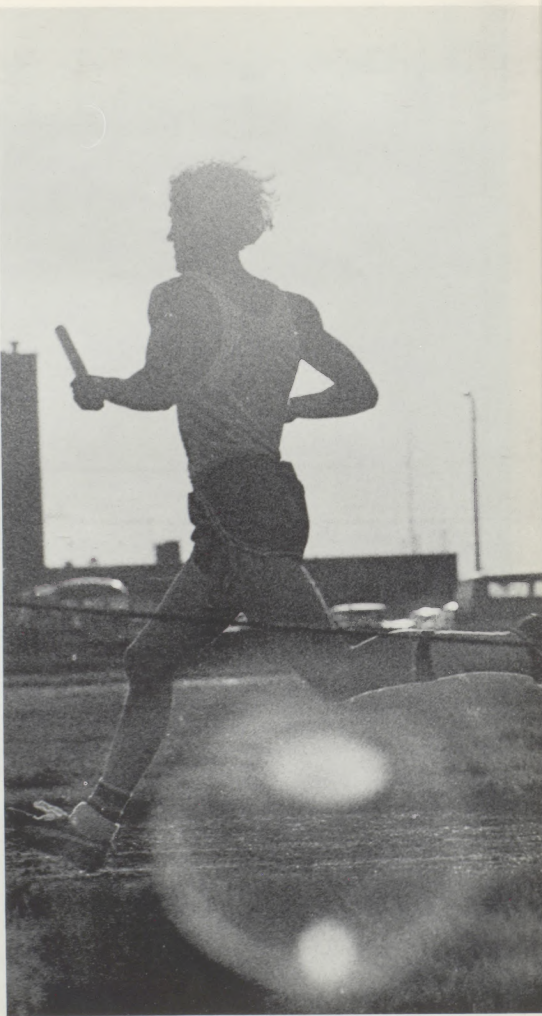

Cats attended 55 minute classes 5 days full week.

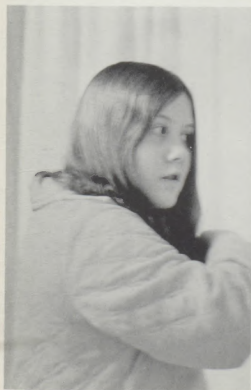

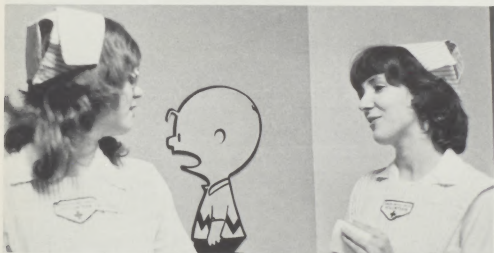

Lunch preference of students varied from buying and bagging at school to traveling to nearby restaurants. Many chose to enjoy both the forms.

School day, officially ending at 3:40 p.m., released students to their outside worlds and lives.

Many turned to part-time jobs, earning money for cars, college, home.

A normal day refocused in new style on weekends.

Students found difficulty refocusing decisions.

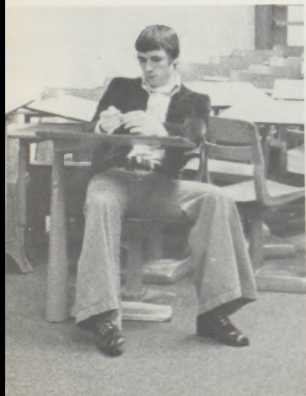

Factual reports confronted Wildcats, enlightening them on subjects such as abortion, drugs, cancer, turning some away while interesting others.

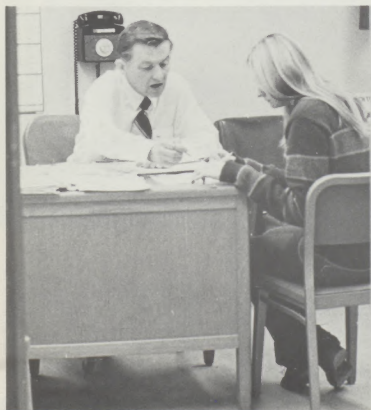

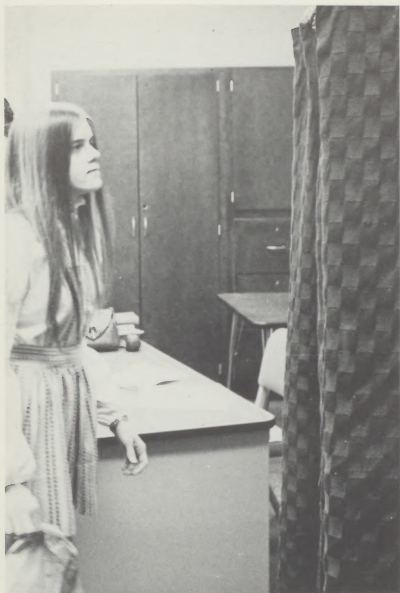

School leaders aroused controversies between racial groups with their decisions on major problems.

Vietnam peace negotiations ended worries about the draft while providing voters with wider spectrum for candidate choice.

Association elections offered opportunity for student body to select leaders which mirrored the views of the majority.

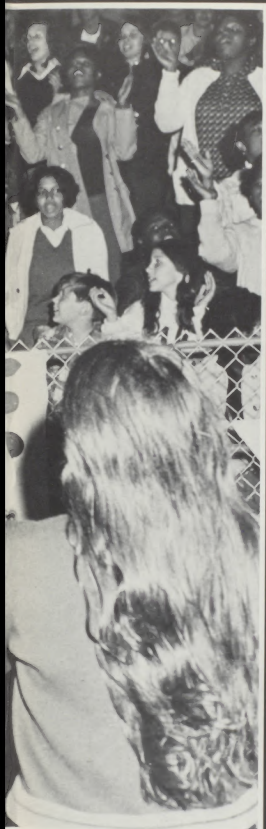

'72-'73 proved to be year for making decisions.

PEOPLE

"One major idea which I almost always seem to notice is the ability of people to come together to help each other for a cause," said a junior. A senior said, "It seems to me that people aren't afraid to say what they think anymore and don't care about the effect it may have on others."

People... "Well we touch all bases," said Dean Mr. Dick Barr, "and compose a cosmopolitan group."

As school continued in its usual style, each individual refocused in his separate way. Freshmen accepted changes, while seniors prepared for their last Hammond High days.

Teachers functioned as people, yet many failed to view them in that aspect.

School dismissal at 3:40 opened students to contact with outside world.

Participation in community projects pulled Hammond citizens together.

All in all, people enjoyed being with other people.

Defying laws of tradition, freshman homecoming float, "Happiness is an HHS Victory," took first place.

Three hundred and twenty-three students enrolled in freshman class and learned their way around a newly remodeled school during frosh orientation Thursday, August 31.

Frosh class elected officers, who along with fellow students made plans for a car wash, bake sale, Dunes trip, and spring talent show.

Officers collected dues in preparation for their future plans.

Juniors looked to the near future by planning prom and prepared for a college future by taking the PSAT and SAT examinations.

In a fervent effort to raise sufficient funds for prom, juniors sold "Go Cats" car license plates, washed cars, sold pastries, and auctioned themselves as slaves. Plans continued in a theme decision of "Dancing in the Moonlight."

Putting heads together, juniors created a second place homecoming float, "Help the Senators Meet Da-Feel." With hopes of winning first place as motivation, juniors worked to make 1,755 flowers during a flower-making marathon. After 30 hours of work, flower-makers rewarded themselves with a trip to the beach to watch the sun rise.

IN MEMORIAM

Gail Jo Anderson
March 19, 1955—July 17, 1972

I think if I should have to go before the Things I want to tell you have been said, I could not lie at peace—eternally, But must awake and see your face instead.

And then if you would smile into my eyes And say, I knew, for so it was with me; My happy dust would mingle with the earth As laughing rivers run into the sea.

Nena Gray

"To love is to be lonely. Every love eventually is broken by illness, separation or death. The exquisite nature of love, the unique quality or dimension in its highest peak, is threatened by change and termination, and by the fact that the loved one does not always feel or know or understand."

Clark E. Moustakas

Faculty accept mid year teachers, travel abroad

New and surprising happenings encountered '72-'73 faculty members as well as expected arisings.

Hammond city residents elected 2 different members, Dr. David Cooley and Mr. Richard Schrieber, to the public school board system. Mr. Ralph Potesta, former school board member, succeeded in his attempt for Indiana State senator.

Faculty members involved themselves with various summer activities which included teaching and learning in summer school classes and traveling the US and abroad.

Mr. William Strater, Mr. Wayne Pecher, and Mr. Mike Fendley taught young drivers while Mr. Richard Naiden, Mrs. Emanda Jones, Mr. Bernie Krueger, and Mr. Leroy Harwell furthered their educations at Purdue Calumet. Mr. George

We don't make promises.
We make guarantees.

We have too many good things to offer you to make any up. (They're so good you may think we are making them up.) Read on.

We won't guarantee you anything we can't pay off. (If we guarantee you Hawaii, start waxing your surfboard. You'll need it.)

Everything we guarantee will be put down in writing. In a legal document that you get a copy of. (If you agree to sign for computer training and the Delayed Entry Option, it will all be spelled out in language you can understand.)

We want you to know without a shred of doubt that you'll get everything you signed for. So we'll give you this card. On the front is what you signed for. And on the back is an address to write to in the Pentagon, just in case you didn't get what's on the front.

We think today's Army has a lot to offer you. We'll try to convince you of that. That's our job. But we'll never try to mislead you. That's our job, too.

Your Army Representative.

Students, staff find summer vacation employment;

Summer activities included studying, teaching, working for Hammond High teachers, students.

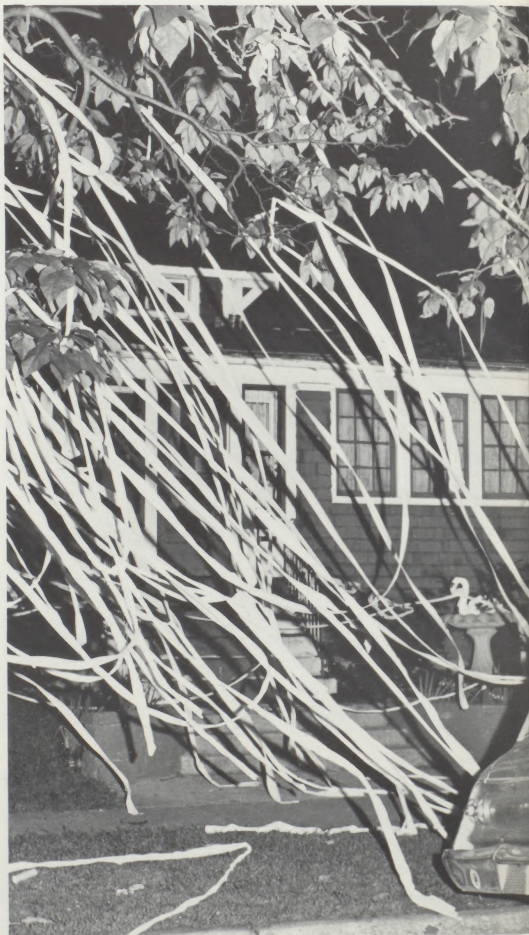

Since construction prevented summer school at HHS, Wildcats attended classes elsewhere. Students numbered 515 at Tech, 3 at Gavit. Popular classes included driver's education, typing, health and safety, English, math and 4 different history courses.

"Follies" preparations occupied summer time of students. Under the direction of Mr. Marty Stiglitz, theatre workers designed and constructed sets, and props.

Teaching at Tech served as a summer job for 8 Hammond High faculty members. Students worked as bus boys, lifeguards, cashiers, secretaries and stock boys.

Familiar summer tree and bush decorations hang undetected by homeowners.

Gostylo challenges '72 grads to 'prosper'

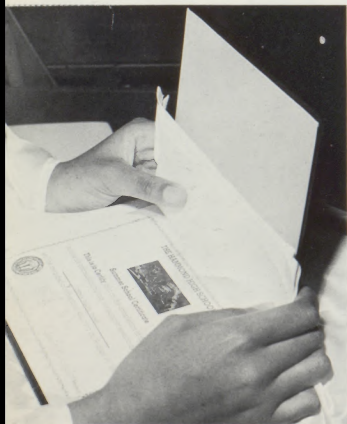

Class of '72 began graduation exercises at 8 p.m. June 8, 1972.

Preluding the graduation ceremonies, HHSE's participated in baccalaureate Sunday, June 4th. Addressing grads, the Rev. Calvin Smith offered the benediction.

Rev. Joseph Penrod delivered the invocation to commence graduation. Dan Gostylo challenged fellow classmates to "prosper by learning" in his valedictorian speech, and Rev. Louis Reynolds performed the benediction to finish the 1972 graduation.

Other speakers included senior counselor, Mr. Herb Wattam; class president David Smith and principal Dr. F. K. Feuerbach. Wattam summarized graduates' past 4 years. Smith announced graduates names as former School Board Preseident Dr. Henry W. Eggers presented the diplomas.

Former School Board president Dr. Eggers presents diplomas to classmen.

As '72 grad Cynthia Thomas gazes at her diploma, reflections of the past crowd her mind.

Beginning commencement, '72 graduates enter to "Pomp and Circumstance."

Petition to abolish prom fails; location moves

At Great Oaks' Lantern Room, Shirley Vukovich and Steve Beville complete bids.

Positioning Mitch Thomas and Ramiro Caudillo, Harry Dudzik offers suggestions.

In spite of a petition to abolish it, class of '73 sponsored the traditional junior-senior prom, May 12.

Couples traveled to the Great Oaks After Four Dinner Club in Cedar Lake instead of the usual Scherwood Club prom site. Even though the distance increased, attendance remained constant with 100 couples. Another change organized by the class of 1973 included the switch from Hi-Fi to Bodie for couples' pictures.

With profits from a chili dinner-dance, Parent Teacher Student Association helped finance post prom.

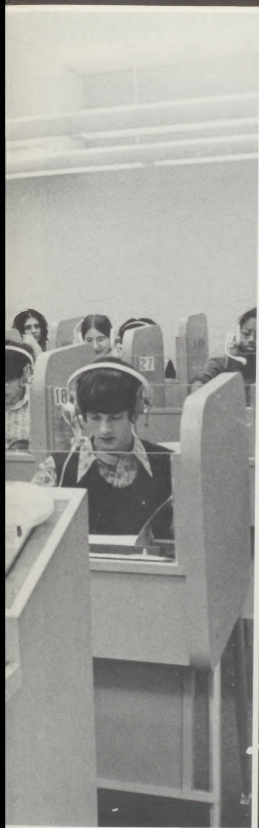

Centering their music around prom theme, "Maybe Tomorrow," Bob Wilson's Orchestra provided entertainment from 8 until 11:30.

Decorating committee, headed by Mary Ann Kaminsky, made centerpieces consisting of candles and glass vases filled with daisies.

SCHOOL

"Walk around the halls 15 minutes after school gets out. It's an empty shell. Then go to school the next day, to me it's still an empty shell; and surprisingly, I don't feel guilty about it. Sadly though, I don't want it to be an empty shell. I want it to be alive, interesting."

School . . . "All students should be on their way to homeroom immediately," echoed thru HHS.

From 8:40 a.m. until officially 3:40 p.m. students attended 7, 55 minute classes each weekday.

Curricular increases permitted expansion in all available elective choice.

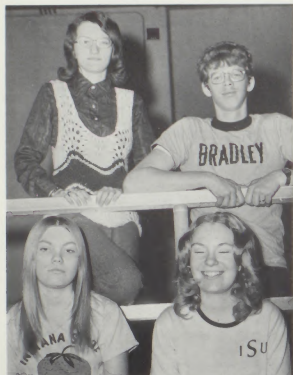

Action in school activities and club projects refocused student body.

Inter-high school relations committee met with representatives from 5 other Hammond schools to improve the operation of student government.

City project of CREAD joined students together.

During 7th hour speech, Gerry Ludwig practices dramatic of "Play it Again Sam."

Curriculum additions, revisions; and the new equipment constituted changes in the English Department.

English curriculum increased with 2 courses: world lit. and drama. Revisions, aimed primarily at freshmen, improved reading facilities.

New equipment included a ditto machine and telephone, both located in new department office.

For the first time, an HHS student, David Brooks, won the Eugene Bainbridge Memorial Award for his outstanding representation at the Purdue Legislative assembly.

Rehearsing her winning speech for Voice of Democracy contest, Patti VanNatta works on gestures for better effect.

Pupils acquire knowledge in math, English

Students searched for more English and math knowledge during club periods every other Tuesday.

Speakers who received 25 points from participation in contests, entered National Forensic League.

Skills and devoted time on the paper or the yearbook qualified journalists for Quill and Scroll membership. Students received magazines published bi-monthly.

Interests in the mathematics field gathered high schoolers together for chess tournaments.

Meeting 7th hour debators offered constructive criticism to classmates and practiced for weekend speech and debate meets.

Studying strategies, seniors Dennis Waugh, Jim Mucha, Don Seagraves and Bob Bainer cultivate chess knowledge during club hour.

Stygar receives highest math score for 2nd year;

Math department, offering 12 courses, attracted 950 students.

In competition with 155 other Hammond High students, Bill Stygar, Steve Weiland and Bill Gostylo placed first, 2nd and 3rd, respectively in the National Math Examination taken March 14; they compiled team score of 128 points.

Only one to achieve highest 2 years in a row, Stygar, scored 47.

Outdated and ineffective materials caused beginning of a departmental phase-out of UISC course.

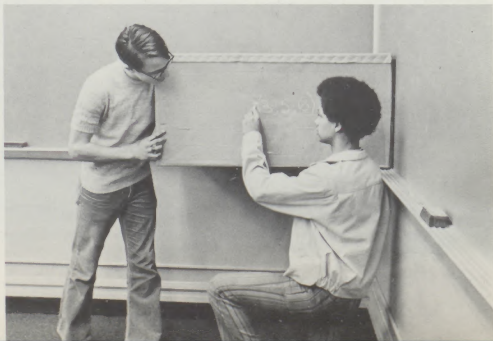

Department added Mr. James Ruf to teach Geometry to sophomores.

Measuring speaker diameter, Keith Laczi and Dave Bailey fulfill project essentials.

Working basic math, freshmen Florence Davis and Jennifer Macy measure floor.

Using a cardboard box to create a 3-dimensional effect, Algebra students Dan Muresan and John Watkins attempt to locate position of the ordered triple $(3, 5, 6)$ in space.

UJESM course phases out

Checking the results from the national math exam, senior Kathi Williamson ponders briefly before copying scores.

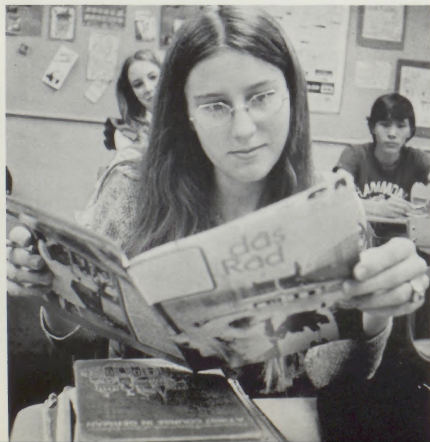

National Math winners—Bill Gostylo, 3rd; Bill Stygar, first; Steve Weiland, 2nd.

Taking advantage of language lab facilities, sophomore French student Vicky Hendon improves her pronunciation and listening skills.

Listening to tapes and following along on their papers, freshmen German students Gayle Pavlovick and Bill Sebastyen fulfill their class assignment.

CHANGES

Construction brought about major changes in the building appearance.

New look of things re-focused students to HHS, while also allowing enjoyment of added facilities.

Special events highlighted the dedications of the gym, football field, pool.

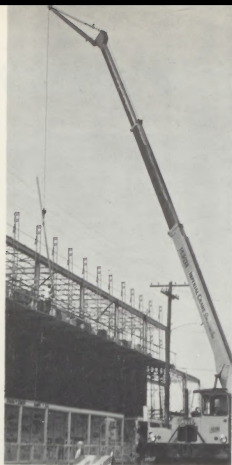

Increase of curriculum due to remodeling motivated Cats in academics.

Faculty alterations and incoming freshmen caused ordinary yearly changes.

Years of construction inconveniences end in '73

After the '67 fire which weakened HHS structure, Cats tolerated construction inconveniences until the approved finish in '73.

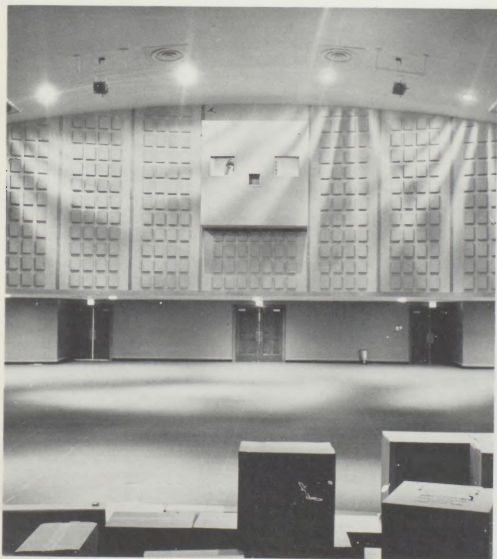

Recommending remodeling in brochure to School Board in '63, Dr. F. K. Feuerbach began procedures for the Hammond High renovations. In '66 the NCA suggested additions, combination with other Hammond high schools. PTA committee headed by Mrs. Stern and Mr. Kicho aided promotion of remodeling instead of combining, and in '69 Dr. Robert Medcalf passed recommendation presented by Dr. Feuerbach.

Clean-up of damage began immediately after fire with students from Tech & Hammond High alternating in the use of Tech building. Major changes such as gym, pool additions; art, science sections; air conditioning, ventilation units; cafeteria; kitchen; windows and roof started in March '71 with predicted finish on Dec. 31, '72.

James Turner & associates completed building design, while Mr. Frank Concialdi directed efforts of the different company workmen. Following companies received contracts for work — Morrison Plumbing, Calumet Construction Co.—general, Fisch - Bach - Moore Electrical, New Era—Intercom. Approximately a crew of 100 worked daily.

School Board designated 4½ million for expenses and how used. Sources for money appropriation included fire insurance, local taxation, an valoren bond fund and the accumulative building moneys.

Student capacity enlarged to 1500 with the increase evenly distributed among different classes.

Curriculum increase helps to motivate students;

Concentrating on his mechanical drawing project, Senior Gary Drutis diligently works on symbolic thread detail assignment.

Relaxing between his afternoon classes, first year math teacher Mr. Jim Ruf awaits the arrival of his next algebra group.

Administration adds 11 faculty members to staff

Developing prints from negatives, junior Jeff Hausenfleck uses new machinery in art.

Seniors Betsy Taliferro, Kurt Huebner and counselor Robert Brock welcome frosh.

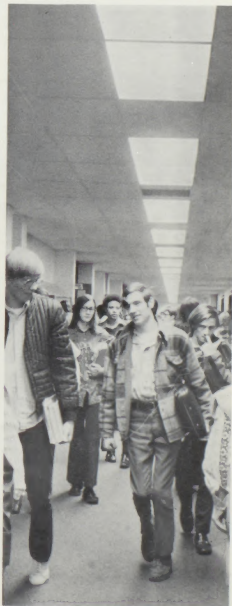

Additional courses and people helped to carry on yearly changes.

Administration hired 11 new faculty members to the staff: Mrs. Kvarta, nurse; Mr. Dennis, social studies; Mr. Slivka, English; Mrs. Deakart; Miss Johns, science; Mrs. Strain, special education; Mr. Fendley, industrial arts; Miss Rodgers, business; Mrs. Smith, library and later Mrs. Baumann, art.

A total of 322 freshmen entered HHS while 121 arranged transfers.

Departments added: world lit., mechanical drawing, child and family development and photography.

New halls accommodate passing pupils.

New facilities widen operational aspect of HHS

Final construction allowed the operation of new school facilities.

Overall changes in facilities included classroom furniture, blackboards, carpeting and lighting.

Workers installed cold storage areas and increased the space for serving, fixing food in cafeteria.

Students utilized an elevator in special instances and a lounge on specified days for each class.

Classes alternated in the use of the new olympic size pool and the 2200 seat capacity gymnasium.

Facilities also reshaped science.

Pool construction finally ended, and the pool opened for use during the 2nd semester.

Student Lounge Monitors—FRONT ROW: Bill Stygar, Marilyn Leimbach, Crystal Burns, Sharon Fry, Sherri Robinson, Sue Bonham, Paul House. BACK ROW: Scott Ferree, David Brooks, Jorge Gonzalez, Kurt Heubner.

POW's return from capture, Munich Black September raid, Kissinger's journey to China compose world events climaxes

Peace in Vietnam and the return of POW's to the United States climaxed world happenings.

Voters elected Richard M. Nixon as 37th President of United States.

Henry Kissinger's secret trips arranged President Nixon's China visit.

Paris peace talks ended with signing on 1-27-73.

Hanoi officials released the first POW's February 17, '73. Staggered releases of those remaining and return of troops centered emotions on war.

Munich, Germany hosted 20th Olympic games. Mark Spitz, challenging swimmer from Indiana U., won 7 gold medals. Controversy arose over an over-time ruling in basketball competition between Russia and the US. Tragedy dampened winning spirit as Black September, Arabian political organization, held Israeli hostages for release of prisoners. Escape attempts ended in death of hostages, captors, policeman.

Only living ex-presidents, H. Truman and L. Johnson, died within one month of each other—December 26, 1972; January 22, 1973; respectively.

Excess trade deficit and instability of the US dollar on foreign trade markets caused devaluation.

Continuing court procedures uncovered facts linking White House aides with the controversial Watergate incident.

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI for 48 years, died May 2, 1972. Patrick Gray succeeded him.

As an eventful year, '72-'73 focused on people.
